

The U.S. Army Logistics Innovation Agency (LIA) is the Field Operating Agency of the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff, Logistics, Headquarters, Department of Army. Our mission is to drive innovation into Army logistics. A top notch and exciting place to work, LIA offers tremendous opportunities and benefits for employees. Dually located at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and New Cumberland, Pennsylvania, the Agency is a project-based organization that offers a Telework Program, Wellness Program, flexible work schedule, employee recognition and advancement opportunities. LIA values professional development and provides coaching, mentoring and interaction and collaboration between supervisors and employees. Employees are encouraged and empowered with opportunities to learn, grow and be challenged enabling them to maximize their skills and talents. Drive innovation into your professional growth. Make LIA part of your career path.